Hi [name],

I'm reaching out to introduce you to this program I learned about. It's called the Leading EDGE Student Internship Program and is run by The Nonprofit Alliance Foundation. Their goal is to elevate the visibility of college-age job candidates, including those from underrepresented communities and first-generation students, within the employer job market; and enable first job placements that can lead to a career path in the social good sector.

Currently, they're looking for employers in the D.C., NYC, and Chicago areas to host interns for 10-week, paid internships next summer, 2026. Their program is unique in how they partner with you to help with recruitment, matching, and preparation for the internship. In addition, they also bring the student interns together for webinars and networking events to teach them about working in the industry.

For more information, you can visit their website. Thanks, and let me know if you would like me to introduce you to their program VP, Shelby Truxon, for a conversation.
